

Hotels, Lodging & Restaurants: Abattoir in Atlanta

From Sarah

July 15, 2010

"Smart, simple, and sustainable" is the design mandate of Atlanta-based Square Feet Studio, which recently designed the interiors for Abattoir restaurant in the city's westside neighborhood, most notable for its contemporary galleries and warehouses. Housed in an old meat-packing plant, Abattoir is a modern-day chop house based on "whole animal cuisine"; we particularly like the used of reclaimed wood on the walls and the whitewashed brick surfaces.

[editorial]

[The Reynolds Group Inc.] [www.thereynoldsgroupinc.com]

[editorial]

[The Reynolds Group Inc.] [www.thereynoldsgroupinc.com]