

JETZ BEL

ATLANTA LUXURY LIVING

100 Best Restaurants

On the Horizon

It's been quite a year in our foodie town. We've seen many restaurants come and go in the last 12 months; in fact, some we never thought we'd see shut their doors for good. But that, of course, just leads to new opportunities for others to make the foray into the dynamic dining scene in the ATL. Therefore, we wanted to highlight some of those that have just set up shop, as well as those that will be opening their kitchens and doors in the coming months—all of which are worth the visit. —SARAH GLEIM

Recently Arrived

YEAH! Burger, Westside Atlanta

Upscale burgers and hot dogs from Executive Chef Shaun Doty. 1168 Howell Mill Road, 404.496.4393, yeahburger.com.

Shaun Doty's new YEAH! Burger also has a second location in Virginia Highland scheduled to open in October.

gourmet burger joint featuring grass-fed, dry-aged beef and local and organic produce. 4106 W. Ponce de Leon Ave., 404.378.5077, farmburger.net.

Home Grown, Reynoldstown

Southern comfort food using locally sourced, organic ingredients from owner and Executive Chef Kevin Clark, formerly of Spice, Paul's and Sun in my Belly. 968 Memorial Drive, 404.222.0455, homegrownga.com.

Sound Table, Old Fourth Ward

International "street-to-table" food from Executive Chef Shane Devereux, who also heads up the kitchen at Top Fir. 483 Edgewood Ave., 404.835.2534, thesoundtable.com.

Three Sheets, Sandy Springs

Specialty cocktails and small plates from Executive Chef Josh Carden, formerly of Cellar 56 and No Mas Cantina. 6017 Sandy Springs Circle, 404.303.8423, threesheetsatlanta.com.

Buckhead Bottle Bar, Buckhead

All-day cocktail house, bar and restaurant from A.D. Allushi, Executive Chef Ian Winstade and Atlanta Hawk Zaza Pachulia. 268 E. Paces Ferry Road, 404.474.9892, buckheadbottlebar.com.

Coming Soon

Three, Buckhead

Upscale bistro utilizing locally sourced foods from the guys at Muss & Turner's (owner, Todd Mussman and chef Chris Hall). Scheduled to open in the fall. 1021 Parkside Parkway, mussandturners.com.

Coastal, Virginia Highland

Upscale seafood joint from Seth Hendricks and Executive Chef Zach Kell. Scheduled to open mid-July. 1021 Virginia Ave., goincoastalseafood.com.

Burger Boutique, Buckhead

Atlanta outpost for Richard Blais' swanky burger boutique. Scheduled to open in October. 3655 Roswell Road, Suite 300, flipburgerboutique.com.

Scallop dish from Five & Ten in Athens.

Empire State South, Midtown

Southern cuisine from James Beard Award-nominated Executive Chef Hugh Acheson, owner of Five & Ten, The National and Godsford Wine, all in Athens. Scheduled to open in August. 999 Peachtree Road, empirestatesouth.com.

[editorial]

[The Reynolds Group Inc.] [www.thereynoldsgroupinc.com]