Ryan Hughes: The Bon Vivant

Ryan Hughes combines his background in business with his passion for interior design and architecture at his White Provisions showroom, R Hughes. The Atlanta native (and UGA grad) has a keen eye for all things aesthetically pleasing; as proven by his holiday wish list. And speaking of the holidays, Hughes looks forward to this time of year so he can enjoy his family. "The holidays have always been my favorite time of the year," he says. "I am very close with my family and always cherish time with them around the holidays. There is just something magical in the air during the holiday season ... maybe it's still the kid in me."

My Ultimate Gift

For $150 a month, oenophiles like Hughes can join the Wine Club at Perrine's Wine Shop (pictured here) and receive two or three premium bottles of wine a month, along with pairing ideas and other discounts at the shop. This appeals to Hughes for more than one reason. "I enjoy fine wines and a boutique shopping experience," he says. "Supporting new local business with personal relationships, and I love having a glass of wine with friends." perrineswine.com.
