

eat. drink. repeat.

Atlanta's Best Bars for March Madness

March 16, 2011 | Category: Round-Ups | by Casey - View Comments

 Tweet

5

 Like

 Share

He shoots! He scores!

What's not to love about March? Spring is just around the corner, St. Patrick's Day is smack in the middle of the month, and best of all...constant basketball games. Grab your buddies and your brackets and belly up to these bars for prime basketball action and delicious libation-swilling.

★ Ormsby's

Ormsby's isn't necessarily a sports bar, but you can certainly watch a game or two here. And once the basketball game is over, start up a game of bocce ball, chess, darts, pool, or shuffleboard. You won't find the jersey-wearing, high-fiving crowd here, but you will find a great time and even better bar food.

Ormsby's | 404.968.2033 | 1170 Howell Mill Rd NW, Atlanta, GA 30318

Stats

Stats is very large and very cool. Kind of like Zach Galifianakis. Except with more televisions. And you know what else? Beer taps ON your table. You heard me.

Stats | 404.885.1472 | 300 Marietta St, Atlanta, GA 30313

Diesel

With plenty of high gravity beers, a lot of seating, and a cozy patio overlooking busy N. Highland Avenue, Diesel is a prime spot for basketball watching, especially since they're showing every single game live this year. Insider tip: order a pickle-back with a shot of whiskey. What's a pickle-back, you say? It's a chaser of pure pickle juice. Trust me. It's strangely delicious.

Diesel | 404.815.1820 | 870 Highland Ave, Atlanta, GA 30306

Taco Mac Metropolis

There are plenty of Taco Mac locations around town, and it's hard to beat the character of the original location in Virginia-Highland; however, the best spot for watching sports is definitely the Metropolis location in Midtown. With a bevy of televisions and ample seating, you're sure to be in view of oh, at least five or six TV's. Hope that's enough for ya.

Taco Mac | 678.904.7211 | 933 Peachtree Street NE, Atlanta, GA 30309

Hudson Grille Midtown

Step right across the street from Taco Mac for another great sports bar. With good bar fare, plenty of beer, and televisions all around, you can't go wrong with the newest Hudson Grille location in Midtown, which is also home to the alumni clubs for the University of Alabama, UNC, and Clemson.

Hudson Grille Midtown | 404.249.9468 | 942 Peachtree St NE, Atlanta, GA 30309

Cheyenne Grille

Somewhat hidden in the Peachtree Battle shopping center, this Buckhead sports bar is not to be missed. Despite its Buckhead location, it's not very...well, Buckhead-y. And I mean that in a good way. Arrive early and secure a coveted seat outside on its huge patio. Enjoy those spring time temps and watch your favorite team.

Cheyenne Grille | 404.842.1010 | 2391 Peachtree Rd NE, Atlanta, GA 30305

Dantanna's

Want to watch the game, but don't want typical bar food? Hit up Dantanna's in Buckhead where you can have the best of both worlds: great food, full bar, and plenty of televisions. You even have your choice of seating — the restaurant side, the bar area, and the patio all have great views of the game. Each patio table even boasts its own personal TV.

Dantanna's | 404.760.8873 | 3400 Around Lenox Dr, Atlanta, GA 30326

<http://www.eatdrinkrepeat.com/round-ups/667/>

